

Maison Guimet Reopens in Paris: New Interior Design by Constance Guisset

A restrained, respectful renovation enhanced the historic residence dedicated to Asian culture. For the interiors, the designer has chosen Woak wooden furniture

A selection of Woak furnishings designed by Constance Guisset helps to shape the ambiance of the spaces in this curated interior project. Chosen by the designer to complement the new layout developed to welcome and engage visitors, the pieces dialogue with the building's architecture and the collections it hosts, devoted to Chinese ceremonial furniture and the art and ritual of tea in Asia. Wood – the defining element of Woak's creations – is a natural fit in a setting where deep appreciation for materials, details, and the quality of the sensory experience reign supreme.
